🚀 Big shoutout to Helene's first masterclass!

Earlier this month, @office23993 hit a huge milestone: launching her very first masterclass packed with strategies for bridging the gap between branding and web design – and it's an incredible achievement worth celebrating.
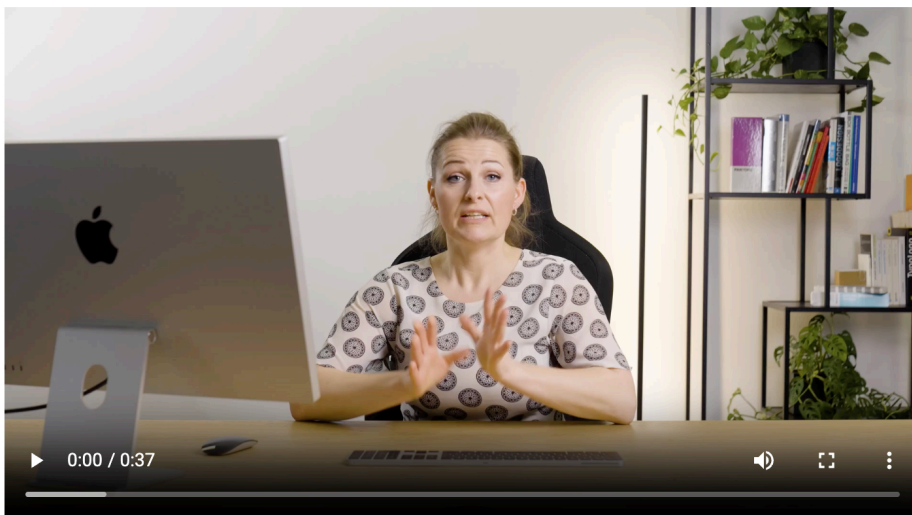

Backed by the Wix Studio Kickstarter Program and fuelled by months of dedication (plus 15 years of experience in branding and web design), Helene poured her heart into creating a 5-hour, 4K video course designed to help creatives and entrepreneurs sharpen their skills, streamline their workflow, and boost their business. In fact, Helene's own process now saves her two full workdays every week.

This masterclass was inspired by the questions she's been asked time and again - how do you do this? how do you make it work? - and now she's sharing her full method with the community.

We're so proud to celebrate this moment with her - it's no small feat to turn years of experience into something that helps others grow.
